

Synapse-TSEC, popularly known as the Magazine Team, is the student body responsible for compiling, editing and designing the eponymous annual college magazine "Synapse". The team is an amalgamation of students from all years with a penchant for writing, editing, reading, and designing. Synapse-the TSEC Magazine is purported for encapsulating the quintessential vibrancy of TSEC, replete with its unique student culture and it also acts as a written testimonial of the various activities organised by the individual departments all round the year. It offers a platform to the students to unleash their literary, creative and technical ingenuity for the world to see and appreciate.
